

The Minuteman Commuter Bikeway Points of Interest Along the Bikeway

- ◆ Alewite Station Public transit station on the Arlington/Cambridge line offers bus and subway access and free bike parking.
- ◆ Spy Pond Park and Field Children's play space, boat ramp, picnic tables and ice skating when the pond freezes.
- ◆ Arlington Center The Town of Arlington is only 5.5 square miles, so nothing is far from the Bikeway. Bikeway users are encouraged to visit eateries/businesses along the Mass Ave corridor and enjoy respite in parks scattered throughout the community. Details on reverse.
- ◆ Cooke's Hollow Early mill site, now a green space along Mill Brook.
- ◆ Old Schwamb Mill Oldest still functioning (since 1864) mill in the US. Renowned for oval high-quality wooden frames.
- ◆ Arlington Reservoir Nature path around the reservoir; sandy beach, Habitat Garden, swans.
- ◆ Arlington's Great Meadows Hiking trails through natural habitat.
- ◆ Tower Park A shady picnic area alongside the Bikeway; site of a battle between British forces and the Colonial militia.
- ◆ Lexington Community Center Available for civic, cultural, charitable and educational groups and organizations that serve the Lexington community.
- ◆ Munroe Tavern and British History Museum Revolutionary War site that played a prominent role in the Battle of Lexington and Concord. Now preserved and operated as a museum with exhibits highlighting the role and perspective of the British soldiers during the outbreak of the war.
- ◆ Lexington Center Settled in 1643 and incorporated in 1713. Lexington is best known as the "Birthplace of American Liberty" for its role in the American Revolution. A variety of shops and restaurants as well as historic sites are just steps from the Bikeway. Details on reverse.
- ◆ Hancock Clarke House The destination of Paul Revere and William Dawes on the eve of the American Revolution to warn Samuel Adams and John Hancock of the coming British troops. Built in about 1698, the house contains period furnishings and portraits.
- ◆ Parker Meadow 17.5 acres of woods and meadows with paths and boardwalks.
- ◆ Depot Park Bedford terminus of the Bikeway where three rail trails converge. The historic freight house is now an information center with railroad memorabilia.
- ◆ Rail Diesel Car 6211 The vintage passenger car, which formerly ran on the Boston-Bedford rail line, has been restored and is open to the public.
- ◆ Great Meadows National Wildlife Refuge 250-acre wetlands on the Concord River, a popular destination for bird watchers, walkers and families.

Bikeway Guidelines: Share the Path Safely & Courteously!

- Pass on the left, after waiting for oncoming traffic to clear. Give an audible warning before passing another user.
  - Make a complete stop at all stop signs.
  - Share the path! When stopping, move off the pavement to allow other users to pass.
  - No unauthorized motorized vehicles; motorized wheelchairs are allowed on the Bikeway.
  - Pets must be controlled on a short leash. Pick up after your dog.
  - Supervise your children to ensure they ride and walk safely and don't endanger others on the path.
  - Enjoy the path and be safe and courteous to other users.
- Bicycling
- Helmets are recommended for all bicyclists and required by State law for those 16 years or younger.
  - Ride at a safe speed especially during heavy use periods.
  - Ride single file. Two abreast is safe only during low use periods. Never ride three-on-more abreast.
  - Electric vehicle riders: please ride responsibly and pass cautiously.
- Walking/jogging
- Don't walk or run more than two abreast.
- After Dark: Be Visible!
- Bicycles are required by State law to have a front facing white light, a rear facing red light or reflector, and reflective gear visible in all directions.
  - At night all pedestrians should wear a reflective jacket, vest, or sash. Lights are recommended.
  - Dims and aim headlights down when encountering other users.

The Minuteman Commuter Bikeway, built in 1992-93 by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts on an inactive railroad corridor, passes through the area where the American Revolution began in April 1775. Connecting to the Alewife "T" Station in Cambridge, the Bikeway provides an easy way for bicyclists and pedestrians to travel to subway and bus lines.

Today, the paved 10.1 mile Bikeway, collectively managed and maintained by the towns of Bedford, Lexington, Arlington, and Cambridge, is one of the most popular and successful rail-trails in the United States, enjoyed by many year-round for both healthy recreation and transportation. In 2008, the national Rail-to-Trails Conservancy inducted the Minuteman Commuter Bikeway into its Rail-Trail Hall of Fame.
